PRESIDENT TAFT AT OCEAN GROVE

Addresses 8,000 Methodists at Camp Meeting.

REPLIES TO SENATE CRITICISM

Says Arbitration Treaties Do Not Infringe Upon Senatorial Prerogative, But Claims Executive Has Equal Power.

Ocean Grove, N. J.—President Taft made good his intention to carry before the people the fight between himself and the senate committee on foreign relations to save the Anglo-American and Franco-American arbitration treaties from the emasculatory amendments which the committee recommended for adoption to the senate.

Mr. Taft addressed the Methodist camp meeting here. His audience numbered eight thousand people. Gov. Woodrow Wilson welcomed the president to New Jersey.

Mr. Taft faced squarely the criticism directed by the senators against the arbitration treaties—that they infringed upon the prerogative of the senate and limited their treaty-making powers. He advanced the power of the executive in this regard as equal to that of the senate and said that the senate should give its pledge equally with the executive to secure the peaceful settlement of disputes. The amendment which the senate committee has voted to add, he declared, was not an amendment in fact, but was a vote to continue the negotiations by suggesting another form of treaty to be considered. He said:

"The powers of the senate as well as those of the executive, are all derived from the people. Neither is more sacred than the other. I am the last person to minimize the importance of the senate's retaining its constitutional powers and of its refusing to abdicate any function which that instrument gives it. I think its sensitiveness in regard to its power ought to be respected and not criticised or made light of.

"Still if the senate, or any members of it, should think that its powers are greater or less, than they are, and the limitations they insist upon interfere with progress toward peace, or any other great national or international policy ,the question whether they are right or not, must ultimately be referred back to the people whose representatives they are, for we all, as I say, have derived our powers from the people as the ultimate source of power, and in case of disagreement the proper place for a discussion of such an issue is before the people.

"The cause is sufficiently great to warrant the straining of effort to secure treaties like these, which make for international peace."

JURY WILL DECIDE PRICE FOR 24-MILE WALK WITH TOOTHACHE

Spokane, Wash., August 16.—Jurors in the Spokane county superior court, to be convened the first week in September, will be called upon to decide what is a reasonable balm whem a passenger, suffering from toothache, is ejected from a train and forced to walk 24 miles to enlist the services of a dentist-surgeon.

John H. Larson, who is the central figure in this hard luck story, wants $20,000 from the Great Northern Railway company for what is described in his complaint as "humiliation, shame, disgrace and physical pain." Counsel for the company has asked for details.

Stripped of its legal verbage, the complaint sets forth that Larson boarded a Spokane-bound train in Lincoln county on June 29, 1911. He was told by the ticket agent to pay the conductor, as there was not sufficient time to sell a ticket. On the train Larson tendered a $20 gold coin, but Conductor Stedman refused to accept it in payment of fare, saying the coin was spurious.

Larson had $3.15 in silver, but that amount was not sufficient to pay his fare to Spokane, so the train was stopped and the passenger ejected. He sought the agent in the station at Waukon, pronounced "walk on" and was told the next train would be along in 14 hours, so he decided to follow the "tip" on the sign.

Meanwhile, the pain of the aching tooth became more aggravated and when Larson reached Spokane, following the long hike on the grade, his jaw was swollen so his friends failed to recognize him, and this continued until the offending molar was extracted.

Moreover, Larson found the gold coin was one of Uncle Sam's own make and he readily obtained $20 when he tendered it at a local bank. This and a few other things prompted him to enter the action against the corporation, which will contest the suit.

TWO AVIATORS KILLED AT MEET

BADGER CRUSHED BY MACHINE

Crowds at International Aviation Races in Chicago Get Their Fill of Horrors—Brookins Dangerously Hurt by Fall.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—Two aviators, St. Croix Johnstone and W. R. Badger, lost their lives in accidents to their aeroplanes, Johnstone being blown out of his machine irto Lake Michigan by the explosion of his motor and Badger being crushed to death under his machine when he broke a wing tip in a gully in the center of the aviation field in Grant park.

Johnstone was half a mile from shore when the motor in his aeroplane exploded and he dropped into the lake under his machine. His body had not been recovered several hours later. Hug Robinson, in a hydro-aeroplane, 300 yards away, made a swoop to the spot where Johnstone fell, but was unable to effect a rescue.

Walter Brookins, who has just broken his contract with the Wrights, while driving a monoplane, accompanied by Francis Winthrop Taylor, secretary to Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh, fell into the same gully in which Badger had been killed, after having ascended in the passenger speed event. It is believed both were dangrously hurt.

Johnsone who was flying a Moissant machine, was a brother of Ralph Johnstone, who was killed at Denver last year. Badger was the son of a millionaire Pittsburg manufacturer and had been in the aeroplane racing game for about a year, after having won laurels as an automobile driver. The machine in which he was killed was a Baldwin "Red Devil."

There were a number of other minor accidents during the day.

FIFTEEN LOST SHEEP STILL UNHEARD FROM

What has become of the 15 sheep which disappeared a week or so ago from the farm of James Cosgrove still remains a mystery. The sheep had sometimes crawled under the wire fence to graze a while outside, but they always returned after a time, so that it does not seem probable that fifteen of them should have permanently disappeared in this fashion.

BLOW SAFE AND FLEE

Cracksmen Rob West McHenry, Illinois, Postoffice.

Burglars in Automobile Believed Ones That Have Looted Dozen Other Places Near Chicago.

West McHenry, Ill., Aug. 16.—Robbers who arrived from Chicago, it is believed, blew open the postoffice safe here and escaped in an automobile. They carried away $300 in stamps, $500 and the money order book.

Messages were sent to farmers in the surrounding district to look out for three men who were in a large touring car. Soon afterward farmers armed with shotguns were in pursuit of the robbers.

The cracksmen used a large quantity of nitro glycerin in opening the safe. The explosion wrecked the interior of the office.

The noise was so loud that it aroused the entire population of West McHenry. The thieves jumped into their car and took the Chicago road in escaping. The town marshal immediately telephoned news of the robbery throughout McHenry and Dupage counties.

Chicago detectives and Chief Postoffice Inspector James E. Stuart also were notified of the robbery.

The police believe the three men who blew open the safe in West McHenry, perpetrated the postoffice robbery at South Elgin, Saturday, when they took $300.

GUARDING TOWN FROM NEGROES

State Police Are in Control at Coatsville, Pa.

PLAN ARREST OF LYNCHERS

District Attorney Has he Names of Many Who Took Part in the Burning of Negro—Policeman Is Implicated.

Coatsville, Pa., Aug. 16. — Despite rumors of possible attacks by negroes, peace reigns in Coatsville and surrounding country, following the burning of Zach Walker, the negro who killed Edgar Rice, a special policeman.

State police, mounted, and on foot, are guarding the town.

It is expected that the men suspected of having been leaders of the lynching mob will be arrested soon. District Attorney Robert S. Gawthrop does not admit that arrests will be made, but he has the names of many who figured in the affair.

While the mob numbered from 1,000 to 2,000, it is said only twenty-five men took an active part in the lynching. One rumor is that a participant has voluntered to tell all the names if he is not prosecuted.

At least one of the borough policemen is reported implicated in the lynching. Besides Richard D. Gibney, a member of the council and chairman of the police committee, accuses Chief of Police Umstead of not doing his duty. He charges that the chief had been warned of the gathering of the mob.

A report spread during the night negroes bent on vengeance would march on the Rice home and seize and burn the body of the dead policeman. The authorities took precautionary measures. Within the house were the widow, her five children and several relatives.

SIGNAL CORPS IN FRONT RANKS AT CAMP OSBORNE

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Camp Chase S. Osborn, Aug. 16.—By far the most successful and most profitable camp ever conducted by the Michigan National Guard is that now in progress at Port Huron. Pleasantly situated a mile back from the St. Clair river, the 3,000 guardsmen are enjoying to the full extent their annual encampment.

In the front rank of the big things in camp is Company A, Signal Corps of Ypsilanti. The city may be justly proud of the showing which the Ypsi lads are making for their state. For the first time since its organization as a Signal Corps, the company is fully mounted. It was an imposing spectacle which the company presented as it marched by the reviewing stand where sat the governor, etc.

The most important features are the wire sections under Lieutenant Gaudy, with Sergt. Arnold for section leader, the wireless outfit carried on the Lion 40, presented to the company for use during the ten days of camp. It is this auto which is making a big hit in camp. The record for speed in hauling and setting up the wireless is two minutes.

On Saturday last, Lieut. Sweet drove a mile into the country to establish a station. The station was set and six minutes after the order came to break up station the equipment was loaded and the machine panting in the shed at camp.

Master Signal Electrician Chapin is acting section leader for the wireless and is proving very efficient.

The governor came over to Company A to observe the setting up of the wireless and was much pleased with the results.

PRESIDENT SENDS STATEHOOD VETO

In Special Message to House He Gives His Reasons.

CONDEMNS RECALL OF JUDGES

Taft Does Not Mince Words in Expressing Disapproval of Provision That He Says Would Terrorize Judiciary.

Washington, Aug. 16. — President Taft, in a special message to the house of representatives, vetoed the joint resolution providing for the admission of New Mexico and Arizona to statehood. His reason for exercising the executive power of veto was based on his thorough disapproval of the recall of judges clause in the Arizona constitution.

The fact that New Mexico's statehood was bound up with that of Arizona meted out to it the same fate, and neither territory can come into the union at this time unless friends of the joint resolution in congress can muster the two-thirds vote necessary to adopt the resolution over the president's veto. This may be attempted.

The president did not spare words in condemning the recall feature of the Arizona constitution, which, he said, would compel judges to make their decisions "under legalized terrorism." Thee recall provision would operate against all elective officers of Arizona, including both county and state judges. When 25 per cent of the voters of the previous election petitioned for a special election to remove an official, such an election would be compulsory.

Much of the message is devoted to a discussion of the functions of courts. The president dwelt at length on the necessity for freeing the judiciary as much as possible from politics or popular influence. Referring to the recall provision, he asked: "Could there be a system more ingeniously devised to subject judges to momentary gusts of popular passion than this?"

The message was received with interest by the house, largely because of the president's long association with the judiciary. The message in part reads:

"Congress, by an enabling act approved June 20, 1910, provided for the calling of a constitutional convention in each of these territories, the submission of the constitution proposed by the convention to the electors of the territory, the approval of the constitution by the president and congress, the proclamation of the fact by the president and the election of state officers.

"Both in Arizona and New Mexico, conventions have been held, constitutions adopted and ratified by the people and submitted to the president and congress. I have approved the constitution of New Mexico, and so did the house of representatives of the Sixty-first congress. The senate, however, failed to take action upon it.

"I have not approved the Arizona constitution, nor have the two houses of congress, except as they have done so by the joint resolution under consideration.

"The resolution admits both territories to statehood with their constitutions, on condition that at the time of the election of state officers New Mexico shall submit to its electors an amendment to its new provision for future amendments, and on the further condition that Arizona shall submit to its electors, at the time of election of its state officers, a proposed amendment to its constitution by which judicial officers shall be axcepted from the section permitting a recall of all elective officers.

"If I sign this joint resolution, I do not see how I can escape responsibility for the judicial recall of the Arizona constitution. The joint resolution admits Arizona with the judicial recall, but requires the submission of the question of its wisdom to the voters. In other words, the resolution approves the admission of Arizona with the judicial recall, unless the voters themselves repudiate it.

"Under the Arizona constitution all elective officers, and this includes county and state judges, six months after their election, are subject to the recall.

"This provision of the Arizona constitution, in its application to county and state judges, seems to me pernicious in its effect, so destructive of independence in the judiciary, so likely to subject the rights of the individual to the possible tyranny of a popular majority, and, therefore, to be so injurious to the cause of free government, that I must disapprove a constitution containing it."

"WHAT IS SOCIALISM?"

"What is being done on a national scale by the National Committee is being done on proportionate scales by every State Committee. These State organizations, and the several 'Locals' under them, are, therefore, carrying on an unceasing propaganda of a similar sort; a propagana of education, because it is necessary that a man understand Socialism before he can become a member of the party, but a propaganda, at the same time, which has groups of men speaking at four or five street-corners and almost as many meetings in halls, in every large city each night of the year; a propaganda which has its emissaries, its organizers, teachers and preachers —working because they believe so much rather than because they are paid so little—in every town and hamlet, in every big factory and mill; and a propaganda which, very differently from that of the Republican and Democratic parties, keeps going at top spjeed all the time, and on the morning after an election begins, with greater energy than in the campaign just past, its labors for the next—however distant—election to come. And the members themselves insinuate, plead, talk and argue for Socialism throughout all their business, social and family lives.

"Especially do the Socialists try to make readers. They firmly believe that if they can get a man to reading books upon Socialism, even anti-Socialism books, he is as good as converted. The party has, also, its own journalism. Apart from the many papers printed in the United States in other than the English tongue, there are monthly magazines, two daily newspapers—the Chicago Daily Socialist and the New York Call—and more than a score of weeklies, two of which have a combined circulation of over 600,000 copies.

"And in New York, for instance, there is the Rand School of Social Science.

"Two other forces remain to be mentioned: the Intercollegiate Socialist Society and the Christian Socialist Fellowship. The former organized in 1905, in response to the following call:

"'In the opinion of the undersigned, the recent remarkable increase in the Socialist vote in America should serve as an indication to the educated men and women of the country that Socialism is a thing concerning which it is no longer wise to be indifferent.

"'The undersigned, regarding its aims and fundamental principles with sympathy, and believing that in them will ultimately be found the remedy for many far-reaching economic evils, propose organizing an association, to be known as the Intercollegiate Socialist Society, for the purpose of promoting an intelligent interest in Socialism among college men and women, graduate and undergraduate, through the formation of study-clubs in the colleges and universities, and the encouraging of all legitimate endeavors to awaken an interest in Socialism among the educated men and women of the country.'"

This call is signed by the following persons, several of whom are known to most of our readers to be intellectual and influential: Oscar Lovell Triggs, Thomas Wentworth Higginson, Charlotte Perkins Gilman, Clarence S. Darrow, William English Walling, J. G. Phelps Stokes, B. O. Flower, Leonard D. Abbott, Jack London, Upton Sinclair.

As far back as in 1908 this organization reported the formation of study chapters at the University of Pennsylvania, Harvard, Princeton, Columbia, Barnard, New York University, and New York University Law School, and also that the society had been represented at Vassar, Wellesley and Bryn Mawr colleges, and lectures were delivered in several eastern and western colleges.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

By A. W. MACY.

NAPOLEON'S SECOND FUNERAL.

In his will Napoleon expressed a desire that his body might repose "on the banks of the Seine, amid the people he had loved so well," but his wish was not complied with till twenty years after his death. In 1840 the French government requested permission of England to remove his body to France, and the request was courteously granted. Two vessels bearing a special commission sailed for St. Helena in July, arriving there October 8. On the 15th the body was taken up and placed in a splendid ebony sarcophagus, in which it was carried to France. The funeral party arrived at Courbevoie, a suburb of Paris, on December 14. Next day the solemn procession moved to the Hotel des Invalides, beneath whose great dome the body was to find its final resting place. The magnificent funeral car of velvet and gold was twenty feet long and nearly fifty feet high, and was drawn by sixteen beautiful black horses, harnessed four abreast. Following the car were innumerable military and civic organizations, in whose ranks were many veterans who had followed Napoleon to victory. The line of march was a continuous procession of flowers and gilded statues and triumphal arches. Never before or since has the world beheld so magnificent a funeral. Though the weather was intensely cold, six hundred thousand people stood in line that day and paid homage to the dead emperor.

WILL HIDDEN IN RUBBISH

Michigan Hermit Leaves Titles to Valuable Land to Sister.

Hamilton, Mich., Aug. 16.—In a load of waste paper received at the Plainwell paper mill, George Sells, an employe, found a package containing deeds to eight parcels of land in New York City and Hoboken and a will by Enos G. Denton, to whom the deeds ran, bequeathing that and other property to Mrs. Judith O'Donnell, his sister.

Mrs. O'Donnell last was heard of as a resident of Carondalet, Mo. Sells found the legal documents wrapped in old newspapers and did not open the package at once. Denton was a hermit, who died in an old shack four miles south of Hamilton in 1907. He was supposed to be penniless. His only work was odd jobs for farmers, and he did little of that.

DROWNINGS IN JULY, 67

Total Deaths in State Were 3,141 and Births 5,004.

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 16.—The monthly mortality report issued by Secretary of State Martindale shows that 3,141 deaths occurred in Michigan during July, which corresponds to the annual death rate of 13.0 per 1,000 estimated population. Tuberculosis caused the death of 205; enteritis and diarrhea to children under two years of age, 232; cancer, 171, and violence, 312. There was also reported 67 deaths from drowning, nine from sunstroke and six from tetanus.

There were 5,004 births reported during the month of July. This corresponds to the annual birth rate of 20.7 per 1,000 estimated population. A decrease of 221 is noted in the number of births as compared with the month of June.

DEATH IN POLLUTED WELL

Four Grand Rapids Citizens Fall Victims to Fever.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 16.—A well, located in the eastern part of the city, is alleged to have been the cause of the death of four prominent residents of this city. The last death charged to the polluted water supply is that of Christian Blickley, aged fifty-four, who succumbed to peritonitis, following an attack of typhoid fever. An epidemic of the fever is now raging in the prominent Wealthy avenue residential district.

The board of health, although failing after making an analysis of the water to find any traces of typhus germs, has ordered the pump dismanteld. Mr. Blickley was a former well known merchant of the city.

FLYING STEEL INJURES EYE

Dr. Dye, Missionary and Former Ionina, May Lose Sight.

Ionia, Mich., Aug. 16.—Word has been received here that Dr. Royal J. Dye, who came here last month from the Congo state, South Africa, where he was a missionary, may lose his sight as the result of a piece of steel flying into one eye.

His condition became such that he hurried from his home at Eureka, Ill., to Chicago, where he will be in a hospital until September 1. Dr. Dye is an Ionian and left some years ago for Africa. He was obliged to give up missionary work on account of attacks of fever this year.

BURIED IN WEDDING GOWN

Daughter of Hastings Wife Slayer Interred With Mother.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 16.—The bodies of Mrs. Hetmansperger and her daughter, Christine, who were slain by the husband and father in Hastings, were buried in one grave in Plainfield township north of this city.

The daughter was laid to rest in the gown she was to have worn at her wedding to Ernest Thompson, of this city, within the next five weeks.

"Black Mary" of Ypsi Arrested.

Ypsilanti, Mich., Aug. 16.—Mary Beeler, a colored fortune teller, was arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace. She was arraigned in the municipal court, pleaded guilty and was allowed to go upon the payment of the costs. There are very few Normal girl graduates who have not at some time had their fortunes told by "Black Mary," as she is familiarly called by them.

Farm Barn Is Burned.

Bad Axe, Mich., Aug. 16.—While Oliver Ratson and his family were eating their supper, one of the members of the family happened to look out the window and was amazed to see their large barn, which was filled to the roof with hay and othe crops, going up in flames. The fire was of unknown origin. The damage is estimated at $4,000, with $1,160 insurance.

Steal Launch For Joy Ride.

Petoskey, Mich., Aug. 16.—Seven young men are in a serious predicament as the result of a depredation committed Saturday night. They stole the launch Skater, and when they returned early Sunday morning a party of men captured them. Several such thefts have occurred lately.

Dies Teaching How to Swim.

Menominee, Mich., Aug. 16.—While teaching resorters how to swim Joseph Willmette, a lighthouse keeper at Frankfort, dropped dead of heart failure.

Medicines for Plants.

"The general public are not the only users of patent medicines," said a florist as he opened a box of small metallic pills. "Lately we have adopted the French custom of feeding our plants whatever element they happen to need in this shape. The pills are buried in the soil and are slowly absorbed, and the resulting growth is remarkable."

IF YOU HAVE A SICKLY YOUNGSTER TRY THIS FREE

The family with young children that is without sickness in the house now and then is rare, and so it is important that the head of the house should know what to do in the little emergencies that arise. A child with a serious ailment needs a doctor, it is true, but in the majority of instances, as any doctor knows, the child suffers from some intestinal trouble, usually constipation.

There is no sense in giving it a pill or a remedy containing an opiate, nor is flushing of the bowels to be always recommended. Rather give it a small dose of a mild, gentle laxative tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which, by cleaning out the bowels and strengthening the little stomach muscles, will immediately correct the trouble.

This is not alone our opinion but that of Mrs. N. H. Mead of Freeport, Kans., whose granddaughter has been taking it successfully and of Mrs. J. R. Whiting of Lena, Wis., who gives it to her children and takes it herself. It is sold in fifty cent and one dollar bottles at every drug store, but if you want to test it in your family before you buy it send your address to Dr. Caldwell and he will forward a supply free of charge.

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 541 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address:

"TIN EARS" BANE OF THE PUGILIST

Many Fighters and Clever Ones, Too, Have Ugly Appendages.

BAT NELSON'S TWO BEAUTS.

They Are So Mussed Out of Shape He Cannot Hear—Majority of Bruiser Type Escape, While Clever Men Are More Often Afflicted.

Dermatologists have been quoted as authority for the well circulated phrase, which every one will recall readily, "Beauty is only skin deep." Such a source of information surely ought to be reliable.

Take the cauliflower ears of a fighter—those big masses of mangled flesh that decorate the sides of the face. They are the beauty spots of the pugilist. Sometimes they are called "tin" ears and again "bum" ears, but no matter under what name they are equally attractive to look upon. Psychologists find something aesthetic in them. They are beautiful in their ugliness, although, Lord knows, the poor maulers who carry them about do not hold that opinion. And the depth of the beauty is sometimes four inches. Ask Bat Nelson or Unk Russell.

Funny thing about pugilistic ears. Many of the bruiser type of fighters possess ears as perfectly shaped as those of any private citizen, while boxers of the hit and get away school wear conspicuous insignia of their profession.

Frank Erne was clever. So were Patsy Haley, Jem Driscoll, Owen Moran, Tommy Murphy and Al Greenwood. They all have tin ears. Greenwood has two excellent specimens. "Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien, Young Erne, Owen Moran, Jimmy Walsh and Danny Dunn are three more scientific men whose hearing organs are a mass of swollen muscle. There are many others.

Gaze upon Jim Flynn, the Pueblo fireman, and you will not find a sign of a bad ear. Flynn has been through many fights too. Stanley Ketchel was in many hard battles, but he emerged with his ears flawless. Billy Papke, Al Kaufman, Mike ("Twin") Sullivan are great mixers, but they have yet to experience the sensation of a swollen ear. You could name fifty more of good reputation. Mike's ("Twin") ears are flat, but not puffy.

It was different with Battling Nelson. He took so many wallops that both ears were mussed out of shape, and he is deaf now. You have to get close up to him before he can hear you speak. Willie Lewis, Grover Hayes, Frank Klaus, Bert Keyes and Unk Russell are clouters with bruised ears. Russell has a pair of them. Nelson and Russell have two of the best ever taken out of a prize ring.

Young Corbett was a clever fellow, whose features are normal to this day. Corbett was lucky, as was his namesake, Jim Corbett, but there are several others in the same class. So there are fast men with and without bum ears and knockerouts who never try to get out of the way of a punch.

It is so easy to get cauliflower ears it is surprising that more fighters do not have them. The rub of a glove across the ear in a clinch will start one, and a few more touches will cause it to puff. However, it is in turning the head that most boys suffer them. With a punch coming straight for the nose they will wait until the glove gets almost to them, when they shift their head to one side, leaving the punch go around the neck. But many times when going round the head the glove will connect with the ear. After a fighter has advanced so far in science it becomes a habit to turn a punch as well as the proper method of procedure. Still, Abe Attell's defense lies chiefly in movements of the head which avoid a punch. And Abe hasn't a sign of a bad ear after thirteen years of fighting.

WHY JACK SHERIDAN BECAME AN UMPIRE.

The retirement of Jack Sheridan, the veteran American league umpire, calls to mind how he broke into the game as an arbitrator. For several years Sheridan was a lumberman, but was not overfond of his position and did his employer little good.

One day the foreman accused Sheridan of loafing. While they talked the tree Sheridan had been chopping at all day fell, killing a yoke of oxen. Pursued by the foreman, Sheridan turned and fled. For days he fled on and on, slinking through the forest by night and living on barks and berries.

At the end of the twelfth day Sheridan flung himself on the ground. He was utterly exhausted.

"What is left for me?" he asked mournfully. "Driven from the haunts of man, forced to skulk through the woods, scorned, beaten, despised, hailed an outcast, why shouldn't I be an umpire?"

COMPLIMENT FOR O'CONNOR.

Woman Baseball Fan Pays Genuine Tribute to "Rowdy Jack."

It was left for a woman baseball fan to pay Jack O'Connor, when he was manager of the St. Louis American team, one of the greatest compliments he ever received. This woman fan asked her escort at the ball park one day:

"Why do they call O'Connor 'Rowdy Jack?'"

"That's easy," was the reply. "Listen to him! See how he yells at that base runner! See that look he gives the umpire?"

"Trying to win, ain't he?" asked the young woman.

"Why, yes; I suppose so."

"Well, if that's rowdyism I didn't read my dictionary right. I've been watching him play for five years, and I never saw him put his hand on another player, much less try to hurt him."

SHE SUFFERED FIVE YEARS

Finally Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Erie, Pa.—"I suffered for five years from female troubles and at last was almost helpless. I went to three doctors and they did me no good, so my sister advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and when I had taken only two bottles I could see a big change, so I took six bottles and I am now strong and well again. I don't know how to express my thanks for the good it has done me and I hope all suffering women will give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It was worth its weight in gold."—Mrs. J. P. ENDLICH, R. F. D. No. 7, Erie, Pa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you want special advice write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. It is free and always helpful.
